GIGS is entirely independent of political, ideological and economic organizations.

Introduction to Geopolitical Analysis

The objective of this seminar is to introduce the main components and tools of the geopolitical analysis method. A comprehensive, interdisciplinary approach is used that incorporates geographic, historical, cultural, economic, demographic and strategic dimensions to decipher the complexity of contemporary international relations, and to enable an in-depth diagnostic of the state of affairs in a given country or a region. An interactive geopolitical case study exercise is integrated in this seminar to illustrate the practical use of geopolitical analysis in day-to-day work.

Themes and Structure:

- Introduction to Geopolitics
- Constant, Enduring and Variable Factors of Geopolitical Analysis
- Interactive Geopolitical Exercise: Analysis and Strategic Choices
